WEALTHY LIVERMORE MAN MURDERED FOR HIS GOLD

EX-CONVICT IS CAUSE OF QUARREL IN FAMILY OF FORMER WARDEN TOMPKINS WIFE DENIES ADMITTANCE TO HUSBAND AND SON

Prisoner Who Won Sympathy of Miss Tompkins Said to Be Cause

DOORS OF RESIDENCE IN FRUITVALE BARRED

Father and Lad are Wanderers While Friends Plan Reconciliation

Major John W. Tompkins, formerly chief of police of this city, more recently city clerk of Oakland and also an ex-warden of San Quentin, has been locked out of his home at the corner of East Fourteenth and Cameron streets, Fruitvale. The same treatment has been accorded to his son, Harold, who is now approaching his nineteenth year. Both for three weeks past have been stopping at the home of Harry Hinkley in Fruitvale, near Pleasant avenue. The embargo has been placed on the house by the wife and the mother who is now in Santa Cruz. It is said to have been done in resentment of the criticism which the major is alleged to have indulged in with respect to the supposed undue sympathy which Mrs. Tompkins had for a former convict named Gordon, who was confined in San Quentin at the time the major was warden of the place.

Gordon was convicted of forgery and was one of the most attractive and brainy of the inmates of the prison. He was a man of fine appearance and good address and, like many of that kind, he was given some of the best and most important berths among the convicts.

Convict as Teacher

One of the duties which fell to him was to give instruction to Harold Tompkins, who was then of tender years. He is alleged to have made considerable progress in instructing the youthful mind but, at some time, it has since been learned, he had quite an effect upon the tender sensibility of the mother of the youth.

Major Tompkins noticed that there was too much sympathy between his wife and the man in the prison garb who was acting as tutor and objected to it without much satisfaction, for the reason that his wife denied that there was any undue sympathy lavished upon the tender husband to give himself any trouble in the premises.

At length, however, the term of Gordon in the penitentiary came to a close and the man went east. It is also stated that about the same time the wife of the warden went east also and the story comes from that part of the country that Mrs. Tompkins and the former felon met there in blessed communion of souls without the possibility of the espionage which was always exercised by a hundred eyes within the prison walls.

PASTOR IS ACCUSED OF SERIOUS CRIMES IN 31 INDICTMENTS

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 4.—Thirty-one indictments against Rev. John J. Holtgreve, pastor of the Catholic Church at Plaquemine, La., were returned by the Grand Jury of Iberville Parish today. Twenty-eight of the counts charge grave crimes and the other three are for criminal libel.

BRADBURY IS LOCKED IN COUNTY JAIL

Sheriff Finds Millionaire at Office After Night of Vain Search

SAYS AGED PRISONER RAN AWAY FROM HIM

Prison Fare is Served to Capitalist After His Incarceration

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 4.—Millionaire William Bradbury was locked up in a cell at the county jail at 12 o'clock today by Sheriff Taylor, who had just returned from San Francisco. The Sheriff said that he had been searching for Bradbury all night and when he reached the jail at 12 o'clock he found him locked in a cell. Denies Story

William B. Bradbury, accompanied by his wife and former Charles H. Pahl, arrived at the Sheriff's office at 10 o'clock this morning. In speaking of the matter, Bradbury said: "I was locked in a cell at the county jail at 12 o'clock today by Sheriff Taylor, who had just returned from San Francisco. The Sheriff said that he had been searching for Bradbury all night and when he reached the jail at 12 o'clock he found him locked in a cell. The Sheriff said that he had been searching for Bradbury all night and when he reached the jail at 12 o'clock he found him locked in a cell."

Denies Story

"It would be foolish for me to escape, even if I so wished. I am too well known and I am too much of a gentleman to do that. I would face the music. Does it look as though I wished to escape when I gave myself up? I have done this morning?"

The story in a morning paper that I escaped Sheriff Taylor last night by ascending an elevator while he came up in another is false. My lawyer, Charles H. Pahl, says that this action of mine was unwarranted, and illegal, and the Governor's report also exempts me from the county jail.

Slight Earthquake Shock Is Recorded

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The weather observers report the occurrence of a slight earthquake in this city at 10:25 this morning. The movement was so faint, however, that it was not generally known to have occurred. Several jolts, five to ten miles to the south, reports a similar slight shock. The time and slight force of the disturbance was confirmed by the seismograph at the University of California, at Berkeley.

Gigantic Irrigation Project Near Spokane

SPOKANE, Aug. 4.—Preliminary work for a great irrigation project bringing water for 100 miles to supply 550,000 acres of land is being taken up by farmers of Grant county, seventy-five miles southwest of Spokane. These plans are to take water from the Columbia river near Marcus and convey it by gravity system through huge pipe lines 100 miles long.

Peary Relief Party Starts Into Arctic

ST. JOHNS, N. F., Aug. 4.—The Peary relief expedition left this afternoon on the schooner Jennie. The vessel is bound for Etah, Greenland, to secure any dispatches that may have been left there by the Arctic explorer and to restock his station there with provisions.

JUMPS FOR THE WATER, BUT STRIKES A LIGHTER

San Diego Girl Found Unconscious in Early Morning by Workmen

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 4.—After attempting suicide and lying unconscious all night on a lighter of lumber anchored in the bay Miss Vee Riedmaster, aged 30, was discovered, still insensible, this morning. The young woman had attempted to jump into the water, but in the darkness struck the lighter instead. Miss Riedmaster, after being revived in the hospital, stated she had been driven to seek death because of being virtually robbed of a fortune of $200,000 by her two sisters, Mrs. Mary Records of Oakland and Mrs. T. D. Potholud of 330 Third street, Vancouver, B. C. About two years before the San Francisco earthquake, Miss Riedmaster claims she was induced by her sisters to sign a document which transferred her fortune to them. Efforts later to recover possession of her money led to her being cast off by her sisters, she claims. Before attempting suicide Miss Riedmaster wrote out a carefully worded will, leaving her possessions to local people who had befriended her. She will recover from the injuries sustained in striking the lighter.

FLAMES ARE BURNED BY FLARE-UP

N. H. Baughman of Oakland Painfully Injured in Early Morning Blaze

DROPS LIGHT IN OIL: BUILDING TAKES FIRE

Edward Scully Who Goes to Assistance, Also Scorched About Face

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—In a stubborn and dangerous fire which broke out at 9:40 this morning in the basement of the Blue-Lac Mineral Paint Company, 73 Stewart street, two persons were injured and damage to the extent of approximately $2500 was sustained. The injured are: N. H. BAUGHMAN, manager of the Blue-Lac Paint Company, residing at 595 Chetwood street, Oakland, severe burns of the face, hands and arms. EDWARD J. SCULLY, clerk, residing at 414 Duncan street, burns of the face, hands and possible injuries from suffocation. Manager Baughman went to the basement to inspect the dynamo used to operate a pump which keeps the cellar dry of excess water. He carried a candle in his hand, and as he stooped to look at the fuse, the lighted taper dropped from his fingers, and fell in some oil which was scattered on the stone floor. Immediately there was a flare and the burning petroleum communicated to the woodwork and to some paint lying near, and in a moment the basement was a mass of flames. Scully, running to Baughman's assistance, was caught in the flames and his trousers took fire. Baughman endeavored to put the fire out, but was severely burned about the neck and was caught in a flare-up which burned the faces of both men.

PROMINENT SOCIETY GIRL ANNOUNCES ENGAGEMENT Miss Ida Marriott to Wed W. S. Bacon

MISS IDA MAY MARRIOTT, Whose Engagement to W. Sherman Bacon Is Announced Today.

Miss Ida May Marriott, one of Alameda's fairest daughters, announced her engagement today to W. Sherman Bacon, son of Frank Bacon of Oakland. The groom-to-be resides in San Francisco but whose family is connected with many of the best people of Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco. He is engaged in the real estate business across the bay. The engagement was made known at a large tea given at the home of the fair bride-to-be, on Bay Street, Alameda, when she and Miss Bessie Valleau entertained about two hundred friends. As each guest called, she was given a little hand-painted card decked with Cupids and hearts and bearing the names of the betrothed couple. The Marriott home is ideally situated, overlooking the water and is artistically arranged and for today's affair presented a pretty scene. The prevailing color scheme used in the decoration was yellow, coral, daisies and other flowers being combined most effectively with greens. Miss Marriott looked sweet and girlish in a gown of pale pink silk, prettily trimmed with net and Miss Valleau was handsomely gowned in a becoming shade of yellow. Elaborate buffet refreshments were served throughout the afternoon and an orchestra dispensed delightful music. Miss Marriott is an Alameda girl but numbers among her friends many of the smart set in the other bay cities. She is a graduate of College Rafael.

RIFLE BULLET AND AX ARE WEAPONS OF CRIME

Wealthy Bachelor Is Slain and Body Is Hidden Under House.

MAKES WILL FEW DAYS BEFORE HE IS KILLED

Pockets Ransacked and $50 He Is Known to Have Had Is Missing.

Manuel Garcia, a wealthy rancher living in Contra Costa county, about eight miles north of Livermore, was foully murdered at his home some time last Sunday, probably in the evening. The crime was committed by two unknown men, and the motive, apparently, was robbery. Garcia was a single man and lived alone on his ranch, and besides raising cattle, he operated a hay press on the ranches of his neighbors. He was about 40 years of age and was considered to be more than ordinarily prosperous as a farmer, and very thrugal in his manner of living. He was generally esteemed by those who knew him, and his tragic and untimely end has created a great sensation in the towns bordering on the county line. A few days ago Garcia made a will disposing of all his property.

Boys Find Body

Garcia was last seen alive Sunday afternoon by a neighboring rancher, and his body was discovered Tuesday at noon by two little boys, sons of Brazil Pina, a farmer who lives about three miles from the Garcia ranch. They reported their find to Anton Bent Nunez, another rancher living close by, who had been a very intimate friend of the murdered man. Nunez had seen Garcia last Saturday and talked with him, and when he disappeared entirely after that time, Nunez became very much worried and started on an investigation of his own account, when the fact of the tragedy was brought to him by the boys. Robbery the Motive

Last Saturday Garcia came into Livermore and closed a deal with Peter J. Murray, a butcher, whereby he was to deliver to Murray on Monday morning, thirteen head of cattle, a total cost of $250. Murray was to pay Garcia for the cattle when they were delivered, and it is believed that the man who murdered him got wind of this deal some way, and came to the conclusion that Murray had paid Garcia the money, and that he had it in his possession. On this theory they followed him to his home and hung about there until the opportunity came Sunday to kill him. The manner in which the body was found and other evidence of the tragedy, indicates that not more than two robbers were implicated in the crime, and that there was a terrible struggle when they assaulted Garcia.

Shot in Back

The rancher had evidently been to the stable to feed his horse, and was returning to the house when he was attacked. He was shot in the back with a .44-caliber bullet that entered just below the right shoulder and passed entire y through the body. This wound must have sent Garcia down, but did not kill him, and in order to make the bloody work sure, one of the murderers picked up a hatchet and imbedded it into the man's skull a couple of times, inflicting two ghastly wounds. Then they dragged his body into the little cellar under the house and searched his clothes. What money, if any, they took away from him has not yet come to light, but that a robbery was committed is evidenced by the fact that both of the dead man's trousers pockets were turned inside out when the body was found.

Leave Scene Hurriedly

There is nothing to indicate that the house was ransacked, and it is apparent that the robbers left the scene in a hurry because the hatchet and a revolver and a rifle were found on the premises. Both the rifle and revolver are .44-caliber, but it is believed that the weapon used to shoot Garcia down was the rifle, for the reason that the ball passed clear through the body. When Nunez saw that Garcia was not going about his regular ranch duties on Sunday, he went over to the dead man's house to see if anything was the matter.

CURRY SAYS HIS HOPES ARE HIGH

"I Will be Independent of Sectionalism," Says Candidate for Governor

Secretary of State C. H. Curry was in this city today on business and when not by a TRIBUNE reporter was asked what progress he thought his candidacy for governor of the State was making, and replied:

"I must say that my candidacy seems to be taking very well with the people. There have been splendid newspaper articles of an encouraging character and referring to the support of the people in all sections.

"I don't think that my friends will fail in securing for me the nomination and the election.

"I may say without egotism that I know the people, that I know their interests, their hopes, their aspirations, their trials and tribulations. I may also say that I know the State of California, its resources, its needs, its possibilities and that ought to be done to make it retain the leadership in the statehood of the State of this nation.

"I intend to be independent of all sectionalism and to govern in the interests of the people. While I am a Republican with Republicans, when I am governor I will conduct the affairs of that office along similar lines looking primarily to the qualifications of appointees to office.

"I shall always select opportunities from among my Republican friends so long as I can find Republican friends who are qualified. I will perform the executive and ministerial duties in the interest and the welfare of all the people."

MONKEY TRIES TO CHEW BOY'S HAND

Seven-Year-Old Child Obligated to Seek Treatment at Hospital

Little Abey Gold, seven years old and living at 271 Sixth street, monkeyed with a monkey in front of the Central Theater last evening and "the monkey" made a start toward eating up Abey's hand before Abey could get away. The baby was in a crowd surrounding the animal when everybody made a rush to feed the animal. Not in the least averse to being fed the animal grabbed the boy's hand. Abey yelled a great deal and was then taken away to the Receiving Hospital, where Dr. Warden Miller applied five pinpricks in his fingers and applied a soothing syrup.

RICH MAN SLAIN FOR HIS GOLD

Sheriff of Two Counties are Investigating Crime at Livermore

He found Garcia's cattle grazing in the pasture and his horse in the stable. Another rancher whom he met as he was leaving the house told him that he thought in all probability Garcia had gone to Livermore, and Nunez returned to his home.

On Monday Nunez went over to Garcia's farm again and found the same condition prevailing that he found the day before. The house was silent and dark, the horses were in the stable, and the cows in the pasture, just as on Sunday, and as it was an early hour in the morning he figured that possibly Garcia had been delayed in Livermore and had not yet returned home.

So Monday passed without any trace of the missing man.

Bright and early yesterday morning Nunez started out again to see if he could find any trace of Garcia. It was a strange thing for Garcia to be away from home so long a time, and Nunez was considerably worried over his absence.

Suspicious Aroused
Arriving at the Garcia ranch he went to the stable, and upon his approach the horses whinnied something to eat and pines all the more, because he knew that Garcia had been at home the day before. He went to the rear door and looked into the pasture and the house and nothing. He went to the rear door and room, but there was nothing to indicate that Garcia had been there for several days.

He did not think of the cellar, and started away with the intention of going to Livermore and laying the case before the authorities. When he reached the two Pina boys, they were crying and told him that they had seen a dead body lying in the cellar of Garcia's house when they went there on an errand.

Trail of Blood
Nunez summoned a couple of neighbors and they went back to the ranch with him. A more careful investigation showed a trail of blood from about half way between the stable and the house to the cellar door in the rear.

Following this, they looked in through a glass in the cellar door and saw a dead body lying on the floor. They were horrified to see the man lying in his own blood and in a state of decomposition.

Body is Removed
The ranchers looked up the house and got in communication with the others at the house and the body was removed to the undertaker's place. The body was taken to the undertaker's place at Livermore, where it now awaits the disposition of the Contra Costa authorities.

The Only Clew
This is the only tangible clew at present that the authorities have to the solution of the crime.

Garcia is a man of considerable means according to his neighbors. While he was a wealthy man, he was a very kind man, and he was a very kind man. He was a very kind man, and he was a very kind man.

AGED WOMAN DIES IN FALL DOWN STAIRWAY
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—While going down the stairs of her home at 2900 California street this morning Mrs. Julia M. Gordon, an aged blind woman, slipped and fell. Unable to save herself, the frail woman rolled down the flight of steps and struck on the back of her head.

A physician was summoned but before medical aid could be offered she had expired. She was a widow aged 83 years.

BURNS MAN ATTEMPTS TO ENTICE CALHOUN EMPLOYEE BY PROMISE OF MONEY

Nicholas Korngold Seeks to Lure Attorney E. K. Lumpkin Jr. From His Employers to Obtain Information.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—The notorious spy methods adopted by the sleuths in the employ of Special Agent William J. Burns, Rudolph Spreckels' private gun show man, was again demonstrated today by the reported attempt on the part of the well-known Nicholas Korngold to secure the services of an attorney of the legal department of the United Railroads by offering him a large salary to give his employers the double cross.

The young man thus, as he claims, sought to be the tool of Burns, E. K. Lumpkin Jr., an attorney at law in Athens, Ga., whose uncle, Judge Joseph Henry Lumpkin, is associate justice of the Supreme Court of that State. Young Lumpkin is a graduate of the University of Georgia, and on his arrival in San Francisco he was employed by the United Railroads to work in conjunction with Attorney William M. Abbott in securing reports on jurors, and general confidential information.

Enticed by Burns
Nicholas Korngold, it will be remembered, was himself enticed over to the employ of Burns, turning over all of his reports made in the interest of the United Railroads to the chief sleuth of the federal government. He also achieved notoriety through his arrest for passing his wife through the streets with a revolver.

His alleged attempt to bring over Lumpkin is told by the latter in the following words:
"I was called to meet a family from Georgia last night in front of the club building at 6 o'clock. They invited me to dinner, and later I went with them to the ferry building, where they took the 9:40 p. m. train for Oakland, where they were to meet a man named Thompson. I got on a Haigh street car, to go up Market street, when I saw standing beside me, an employee of the grand prosecution, whom I since learned is Nicholas Korngold. Not desiring to be seen in such company, I stepped inside the car and sat down.

Tries to Lure Him
"When I came in, too, came in and took a seat just in front of me. Hoping to elude him, I procured a transfer and changed at Fillmore street, going directly to the Chutes. Here, after riding once around on the road, I saw a sign of him, and thinking he had gone, I left and walked to Ellis and Fillmore streets, intending to take a car down town.

"When I arrived at the corner I found him standing there and he walked up to me and said: 'How do you like working for the company?' I replied: 'Oh, it's all right.'

Promises Money
"If you could come and work for us you could make from $150 to $200 a month easily. You could do what you're doing now, and work for us at the same time. This was too much for me, and after telling the man what I thought of him, I boarded the car and went down town, and wrote my report to Mr. Abbott."

It seems to be noised around Carpenters Hall this morning that Mr. Lumpkin had reported his experience with Korngold, for that dapper little individual was extremely nervous as he popped in and out of court, sat mingled with the spectators for a moment and then crossed the street to a gathering of his fellow gun show men.

Some Prominent Names
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—There were several prominent citizens among the group of young men who were personally interrogated by Judge Lawrence this morning, and strange to say two of these had been released from duty in former trials under the challenge of private prosecutor Francis J. Heney with apparently no real ground for their being excused, save their utter indifference regarding the prosecution.

Ferdinand Haber, retired, and well remembered as the appointee of Governor Pardee at the St. Louis exposition, and in charge of the viticultural department at that fair, was one of these. He, when examined in the last Calhoun trial, seemed to possess every quality necessary for an entirely opinionless juror. He was, however, released on Heney's challenge over the vigorous objection of the defense, the reason being that the prosecution merely being that he did not think he would make a good juror.

Almost Similar Case
An almost similar case is that presented by Charles Washington, a manufacturer, who was disqualified in exactly the same way by Prosecutor Heney in the Ruef trial. He, too, is awaiting examination.

Ignatius Steinhart, a well known banker and millionaire capitalist, was among those brought into court this morning, and succeeded in impressing Judge Lawrence with the urgent calls of business which made it necessary for him to be at his desk.

The postal card device instituted by the court in bringing in witnesses which the sheriff has failed to locate, was more successfully put into operation, and a large number of citizens were on hand to be personally questioned by his honor after the regular morning's panel had been passed through the mill.

Yesterday's Session
George C. Dawson, clerk, of 3443 California street, was first questioned at the afternoon session yesterday. He claimed to have a very good memory, and his paper reading to the effect that Calhoun was guilty, but maintained that he could not see it as he was not a juror. The challenge interposed by Attorney Stanley Moore was, however, not denied, and the district attorney and the witness was excused.

Amuses Spectators
Robert L. Clark, a retired jeweler, who resides at 2200 Oak street, furnished considerable amusement to the spectators present by the answers he gave to the rapid-fire questions put him. "Are you acquainted with Abraham Lincoln?" he asked. "Yes, I was acquainted with him. We went to San Jose together, years ago, to a National Sons' convention. He said I was no kisser because I got drunk."

BLAMES LAWYER FOR HER TROUBLE

Mrs. Neville Castle Says That She Did Not Plan to Commit Murder

myself. I knew Mr. Craig went to the rooms of the Rocky Mountain Club in the Waldorf-Astoria to read, and after he had read me without taking notice of my presence, I said to him: 'Well, don't pass without recognizing me; I am going to finish myself.'

According to Mrs. Castle's statement, Craig told her to go ahead and do it. "Mr. Craig had been an admirer of me ever since I was a girl," she said. "I have never annoyed or molested him in any way. His wife and I are distant cousins, but we are not now on friendly terms."

"This is because Mr. Craig told Mrs. Craig in my presence that he admired me."

Mrs. Castle said she carried the revolver after the shooting was done, as a means of self-protection.

Mrs. Castle's maiden name was Mary Scott and she was the daughter of J. H. Scott, a merchant of San Francisco. Her husband, at one time a well-known lawyer in San Francisco, is said to be at present in Alaska. They have been living apart for some time.

Woman Pleads
When Craig was called on to make his formal complaint against Mrs. Castle a touching scene was enacted. The prisoner was plainly on the verge of collapse and mutual friends of the parties had been interceding with Craig to withdraw his complaint.

He failed to be moved by their representations, however, and then Mrs. Castle herself came forward. Laying a hand lightly on his shoulder she said gently: "What have I done to you, my dear?"

Craig turned from her with a quick movement and left the room.

In his complaint Craig swore that he was "assaulted and beaten by Mrs. Mary Scott Castle in that she had pointed a loaded revolver at him and discharged his left hand, the bullet taking effect in his left hand."

Mrs. Castle when arraigned gave her age as 36 and her business as that of an insurance agent. She was becomingly attired in a plaid suit trimmed with green, a black hat and white veil.

Woman Collapses
Her counsel, Frank Dean, asked an adjournment until next Friday and Magistrate Butts fixed the examination for that time, holding Mrs. Castle in $2000 bail.

Mrs. Castle had no friends or relatives here and that he wanted time to communicate with her brother, Captain Henry Harrison Scott of the Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Morgan, Ala.

After her arraignment Mrs. Castle collapsed and had to be supported to an ante-room, where she was revived, and then was taken to her cell. Her counsel said he expected to get bail for her during the day.

Mrs. William B. Craig, wife of the man who was called to the hotel immediately after the shooting, declared that she and her husband had known Mrs. Castle since all of them were children, and declared that Mrs. Castle had been befriended and protected by them for several weeks.

Prominent Family
SAN FRANCISCO, August 4, 1909.—Neville Castle was formerly an attorney of this city. He had offices here up to 1900 and enjoyed a lucrative practice. His money was lost in various ways and, hoping to recoup his losses, he went to the Klondike. Later he made his way to Nome and has not been heard of in some years.

Castle was the son of Michael Castle, one of the leading businessmen of the coast. His marriage in 1877 to Mary Crittenden Scott was a brilliant affair. The bride was the daughter of the late H. H. Scott, a prominent coal merchant. He was sheriff two terms in Elko county, Nevada, later deputy collector of port under Judge Hager and who was a stock broker in San Francisco. Mrs. Castle is also a sister of Henry Scott, who married the late Admiral Sampson's daughter. She was ambitious to become an actress and studied for the stage shortly after her marriage. Under her maiden name she made her debut with the Fraxway company in Piner's play, "The Princess and the Butcher."

William B. Craig, the man whom she shot, is the son of William Craig, 2561 Washington street, and of the law firm of Craig & Craig of San Francisco. The younger Craig lived in San Francisco until three years ago, when he removed to New York. He has been married twice. He and Mrs. Neville Castle were playmates in this city and continued their acquaintance intimate to the present time.

William Craig Sr., when asked about the episode, said the only information he had of the matter was a telegram received yesterday from his son's wife in New York, which read:

"Will is not harmed. Do not be alarmed."

"Further than this," he said, "I am completely ignorant of the whole affair. My son and Mrs. Castle were playmates in San Francisco and knew each other very well. I know nothing about her and have not heard of her since she left San Francisco. My son left San Francisco for New York three years ago, but he never mentioned in his letters of having met Mrs. Castle there."

MAYOR SILENCES SHANNON NOT OUT TALKATIVE AGENT FOR CURRY'S JOB

Contractor's Representative Gets Peremptory Command at Board of Works Meeting

For attempting to enforce the claims of the Central Oakland Light and Power Company on the Board of Public Works this morning, Charles L. Pryal, contracting agent for the concern, was peremptorily ordered by Mayor Mott to desist from speech-making and allow the property owners present in the matter of placing electroliners on Washington street to present their case.

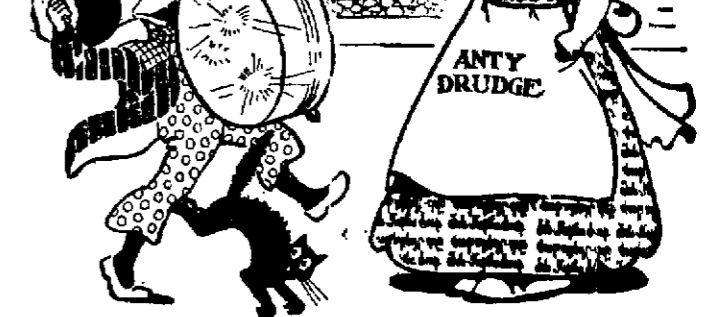

At a previous meeting the board announced its policy that there would be no more electroliners placed in the city, owing to the enormous expense of maintenance. Pryal came forward with the proposition that the company he was representing would furnish light at a much cheaper figure than furnished by the existing companies. Mayor Mott stated that it was not a question at the present time as to the rival companies, but a question of whether or not the members of the city council would provide the extra money needed for the lighting of lower Washington street.

After Pryal had retired from the controversy, J. Pantosky and others turned upon the board the necessity of lighting Washington street as a question of safety. Mayor Mott replied that if the city council could provide the money that the improvement would be made. He said there was no money available that would be impossible to place the electroliners on Washington street.

City Engineer Turner stated that in event that Washington street was lighted with electroliners, the board were inclined to agree with him and stated that if the city council would provide the money that the lights would be installed.

Medical men are reaching the conclusion that there are more good germs than bad ones; but most laymen would prefer not to have any.

The question of lighting Sixteenth street also came up on the initiative of Councilman Stiefvater. He urged the claim that the street was a very dangerous place to the privilege of being lighted with electroliners. The board were inclined to agree with him and stated that if the city council would provide the money that the lights would be installed.

Tom, Tom, the Piper's son, stole the washboiler for a drum,
But his Mother laughed—she washed today,
Without any boiling, the Fels-Naptha way,
And found it so easy and quickly done,
Tom can have the boiler for his fun.

Some "don'ts" for women who have their washing "done out."

Don't blame your washwoman if your clothes come home yellow or streaked and bearing a nasty odor.

The responsibility is yours.

She may not have heard of the Fels-Naptha way of washing in cool or lukewarm water—which makes clothes whiter, and clean and sweet.

You have.

She may be boiling the life out of them, rubbing till her back nearly breaks with the ordinary old-fashioned kind of soap because she doesn't know any other way.

It is your duty to tell her; to see that she uses Fels-Naptha soap.

Then your clothes will come home as snowy and fresh as you could wish and they'll last longer.

And your washwoman will thank you for making her work easier.

Just see that she gets Fels-Naptha soap and tell her to follow the simple directions on the red and green wrapper.

WEBSTER STREET BID GOES OVER

Only One Submitted and That Is Thought to Be Excessive

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—Only one bid was submitted to the City Council at its meeting last night for the contract to improve the east side of the Webster street roadway and this was offered by the Ransome-Crummey Company of Oakland. The bid was referred to the street committee for inspection and it is likely that this body will recommend that the bid be turned down and that new bids will be called for.

The Ransome-Crummey Company's bid totals about $38,000 and it is said that it is higher than any of the bids which were recently submitted to the council. When the first call for bids was made by the council and the offers received, the contract was awarded to the Barber Asphalt Company. It was found that there was an error in the proceedings, however, and the action was rescinded. The council issued a new call for bids and the one received last night was the result.

Bid Thought Excessive

When the single bid was read last night, Councilman Peter Christensen moved that a recess of ten minutes be taken, in which the street committee could look over the bid and make a report. He stated that he wished to see immediate action in the awarding of the contract so that there would be no further delay in the carrying out of the proposed improvement. There was no second to the motion.

Councilman J. H. Walker declared that he believed the street committee should have further time in the matter, so that the figures could be gone over and a motion to this effect finally prevailed.

Councilman F. L. Krump, chairman of the street committee, declared that the bid is excessive and it is likely that he will urge that new bids be called for.

BURIED IN GRAIN, ONE MEETS DEATH

Floor of Warehouse Collapses on Party Enjoying a Feast of Watermelons

VISALIA, Cal., Aug. 4.—By the collapse of a warehouse at Corcoran last night, an unknown Mexican was killed, Mr. H. Rowley, an assistant foreman, was seriously injured and it is possible that several others were buried beneath a flood of grain. A large force of rescuers spent the night removing the grain in the search for additional victims of the accident.

The ample floor space beneath the building was a favorite refuge of tramps. The Mexican was one of a party engaged in a feast of watermelons when the crash came. His body was located by an arm extending upward from the avalanche of wheat.

The cause of the accident has not been determined.

TRAINS HENS TO LAY GOOD EGGS

Prof. Meyer E. Jaffa Wants
Fowls to Choose Winter
Instead of Summer

BERKELEY, Aug. 4.—Professor Meyer Jaffa is once more engaged in his effort to get hens to lay proper eggs, that is, with the ideal amount of albumen, and at a time when the old hen is taking a vacation—that is in summer. Professor Jaffa has always believed that if he could induce hens to lay eggs in winter as they do in summer he would solve the problem of getting rich. He has steadily sought to have the hen change her mind about the season, but thus far he has not met with much success. Just now he is engaged in a determined effort to arrive at the exact food values of the brand of eggs now forthcoming.

Success Elsewhere

In certain sections of the State poultry raisers have not met with the success that has attended the industry in other sections. This is accounted for by the lack of albumenoids and carbons in the food which the fowl forages as it runs at large in the fields. In some cases the white of the egg is thin and stringy, and in others the yolk is flabby and underweight. The result is a depreciation of the marketable value of the product, and proves a severe loss to the poultryman. In other cases the absence of carbon in the food produces a soft shell. It is for the purpose of remedying these defects that the further purpose of producing a perfect omelette of the highest marketable value that Professor Jaffa's experiments will be carried on.

Need Rich Food

"It is a fact recognized by those interested that the grains and mill by-products are not sufficiently rich in protein to meet the demands of the laying or growing hens," said Professor Jaffa yesterday, "and consequently some concentrated food must be added to the ration. Such materials are best incorporated in the mash, for in that way they can be better and more evenly distributed than if fed as such or with grain. In the experiments which we have carried on in the past we find that this is especially true of dried food, the most concentrated nitrogenous product that can be fed to poultry. Oil cakes and meat meals also contain excellent nutritive values."

WHEELER HELD TO BE A SUICIDE

Verdict of Coroner's Jury in Hanging Case Returned
Today

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—A coroner's jury sitting over the cause of death of George Washington Wheeler, rendered a verdict this morning of "strangulation by hanging by a rope adjusted by his own hands."

Wheeler was found hanging from a rafter in a shed at the rear of his home, 1323 Webster street, by his wife, on July 27. It was brought out in the testimony given by Fred G. Wheeler, the son of the deceased, that the old man had been despondent owing to his crippled condition, this having been caused by paralysis. The son stated that his father had talked with him on the Thursday preceding the suicide and had said to him, "Good bye, my boy, I am going on a long journey."

The son did not believe that his father had any idea of killing himself and let the matter drop. Then he was informed by telephone that his father was dead. He arrived just in time to see Dr. Pond, who was called, cut down the lifeless body of the man.

The coroner's jury was composed of E. J. Cross, foreman, Chester Plotz, John Banta, Frank Neames, E. A. Kober and W. J. Behrens.

GRIEF KILLS WIFE OF MISSING MAN

Mrs. Benjamin Porter Succumbs to Worry Shortly
After Disappearance

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—A sad sequel to the mysterious disappearance of Benjamin Porter, the insurance agent, who has been missing for three months, was presented yesterday in the death of Mrs. Porter, his wife.

The husband's disappearance, which Mrs. Porter strove to solve by offering rewards for information, was said by physicians to have had much to do with the death of the wife.

ARK DWELLERS' "KICKS" REFERRED TO COUNCIL

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—Colonel John Biddle, of the War Department, sent a communication to the City Council last night in which he stated that he had been receiving numerous complaints from owners of arks on the tidal canal, between the Park street and Fruitvale avenue bridges, about the granting by the local Council of permission to Powell Brothers to construct bunkers in that vicinity.

Biddle stated in his letter that he had notified the protestants that the matter was entirely in the hands of the Council and that all complaints should be sent to it.

Councilman J. H. Walker made a motion that Colonel Biddle be notified that the Council still favors the permit granted to Powell Brothers. The motion was unanimously carried.

COLLEGE EDITOR IS ILL AT HIS RESIDENCE

BERKELEY, Aug. 4.—Chauncey Hall, a prominent member of the senior class of the university, and editor elect of the college daily, the Californian, lay at his home in Oakland and was not able to resume his duties with the opening of college. Hall is a son of Justice Hall of the Appellate Court.

His friends say he will not be coming here for at least a month, after opening day.

SCHOOL CHILDREN

Alameda Board of Education
Considers Installation of Medical Examiners

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—At the regular meeting of the Board of Education last night a communication was received from an Alameda resident in regard to the medical inspection for the local schools. The directors took the matter under advisement after holding a short discussion on the subject. The matter has been agitated for some months past, but nothing definite has been decided by the board up to date, although the directors and Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood contend that medical inspection is a necessary adjunct in public schools.

"There are 300 children in this city attending the public schools with some marked physical defect; a defect that is evident to everyone with whom they come in contact. This number of affected pupils makes an average of one child out of 10; and there are many more with serious ailments that tend to retard their progress, but which are not evident to the casual observer. We should have medical inspection in our schools to have a perfected system."

Medical inspectors are employed in the schools of Oakland and Berkeley, and their superintendents aver that since the inauguration of the system of inspection the health and general school work of the pupils have been of higher standard.

Dr. N. K. Foster is acting as inspector of the Oakland institutions and the Berkeley Board of Education employs Dr. Hoag. Both of these men are from Pasadena.

Councilman Krump Wants Station at Lincoln Park When Road is Electrified

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—"I am honestly in favor of establishing a station on the Southern Pacific line at Lincoln Park, and I believe with the electrifying of the road as well as the building of the proposed new factories in that vicinity that Alameda will be greatly benefited."

Councilman Fred L. Krump made this statement today after a conference held with Mayor William H. Hoy and F. W. Hoover, industrial agent of the Southern Pacific Company.

As soon as the electric trackage of the road is well under way it is understood that a station will be built at Lincoln Park. Already stakes are being set along Lincoln avenue. The station will probably be located at High street and Lincoln avenue, near the large Cohn property.

A piece of property comprising 35 acres has been purchased south of the High street bridge on the south side of the esplanade. Here will be erected a large box car plant and a lumber yard will be joined to the industry. Hoover states that employment will be given to about 1000 hands. For the reason that the plant is to be erected the railroad company plans to locate the station for the accommodation of the employees.

COUNCIL ISSUES EDICT AGAINST BAD SIDEWALKS

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—The edict against broken sidewalks in this city has gone forth. The City Council last night instructing the city clerk to notify all property owners whose sidewalks are in need of repair to have the work done in thirty days. If the order is not complied with the city will do the work and charge the property owners for it. The first to come under the edict are the owners of the property on the west side of Willow street, between Buena Vista and Eagle avenue, and the north side of Buena Vista, between Broadway and Pearl street.

$5000 ON TRAIN

Money Was Intended for Present to Son, to Purchase a Home

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Anna Childs of Washington reported the loss of $5000 yesterday while on the way to Chicago on a Pennsylvania railroad train. Mrs. Childs is well known in Washington. She was bringing the money, which she had saved during a period of years while she was a milliner in Washington, to her son, Edward Childs, Clyde, Ill. The money was a present to him in paying for a home. The money is believed to have been taken from her berth while she was in a wash room.

San Jose Aug. 14

HARRY J. FAZAKERLEY

STEWART C. CRONIN

The Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute will assemble in San Jose, August 14, when the opening function will be in the form of a reception and ball in the Hotel Vendome. The picturesque grounds will be illuminated with electric lights and Chinese lanterns, which will be strung about the trees and shrubbery. The convention will be in session one week, during which time the council will hold important meetings. The delegates will be entertained in the southern city, where a royal welcome awaits them. The local representatives are Harry Fazakerley, past president of Oakland Council No. 8, and Stewart C. Cronin, president. Many prominent members of the Young Men's Council and a delegation from the Young Ladies' Institute will take part in the celebration.

Parade on Sunday

The Sunday morning parade will be formed upon the various streets near the depot immediately upon the arrival of the excursion from San Francisco and Sacramento Valley points. It will pass along the principal streets of the city and end at St. Joseph cathedral, where mass will be celebrated. Past Grand President John P. Fitzgerald, will be in charge at the depot and will accept the grand marshal in arranging the party. The Young Ladies' Institute will also be well represented. Many local Catholic societies will also take part in the parade.

Select Headquarters

The Ignatian Council will center at the Hotel Vendome, Golden Gate Council in the parlors of the Hotel St. James and Salesia Council at another hotel. The headquarters of the clubrooms of San Jose Council will always be open.

Monday morning, as soon as the various committees are appointed, delegates and visiting members of the order will go to Congress Springs, where a barbecue will be held.

Tuesday evening the members of the Y. M. I. and Y. L. I. and invited guests will enjoy a trolley ride and dance near Congress Springs. Special cars will be provided for this occasion.

Wednesday evening a banquet will be held in the Hotel St. James.

Talks on Teeth

BY
THE REX DENTAL CO.,
(Incorporated)

The Art of Painless Dentistry

We have not lost sight of the fact that four keeps most people away from the dentist's chair. Our great achievement, the restoring of missing teeth without the use of plates, brought this company into the commanding position of the largest dental concern in the world, but we were not satisfied to rest on our honors.

We worked for years to perfect a plan of filling, crowning and, when necessary, taking out teeth that would be entirely painless, and that plan is now being successfully followed by our operators every day.

We have made a visit to the Rex Dental Company offices something to be looked forward to with pleasure. Our operators are past masters of the Gentle Art of Painlessness.

WOULD YOU CALL THIS PROOF?
One year ago I had the Alveolar Method put in for me, and they are all that the Rex Dental Co. claim for them. I can eat anything I like with my natural teeth. They are as near your natural teeth as it is possible to make them. I am thoroughly satisfied.

S. WARD,
221 N. 7th, San Jose.

If you have one tooth or several that need attention, come to us with the comfortable feeling that the work will be done beautifully and painlessly.

The Alveolar Method of restoring missing teeth without plates calls for pain, either, no boring or cutting into the gums, no discomfort of any sort.

We promise you a fine looking set of teeth, solid and firm in the mouth, that you can use just as you would natural teeth.

Let us look your teeth over—a service we make no charge for.

If you cannot call at once send for our handsome forty-page illustrated book, entitled, The Alveolar Method. We send it free of charge.

SIERRA CLUB IS HOME ONCE MORE

Mountaineers End Adventurous Season Among Crags and Valleys of Yosemite

Sierra Club members, 175 of them have returned from their summer mountain climbing in the high Sierras. All returned safe and sound, not a single serious mishap occurring this season to any member of the club while taking the dangerous trails of the icy and rocky passes, or traversing the high mountain passes where there are no trails. One member, Phillips, took an involuntary slide down an almost vertical cliff several hundred feet, but the snow on its surface prevented him from receiving an injury. Starting from Yosemite Valley the club members explored this year the entire upper course of the Merced river to its source in the icy fields and snow banks of the mountain tops. Then breaking up into smaller parties of six, or eight, or a dozen, various routes were taken, some going over the pass to the headwaters of the Tuolumne, others venturing to climb the noted mountain peaks in that region.

Varl-Colored Island

One of these subdivisions of the Sierra Club headed their way to Mono Lake, a beautiful body of water in which are two islands, one of them black the other white in appearance. The visitors, among whom was Attorney H. L. Broed of Oakland, expressed astonishment when they learned that exploration for petroleum is being prosecuted on "Point," the white island in Lake Mono.

"The well borers were down 2300 feet when we were there," said Attorney Broed describing the visit to Mono. "and at least to a depth of 3500 feet in their search for oil. They also seemed to be perfectly confident of finding oil in the deep base of the strange-looking white island of Lake Mono. Just what commercial value the oil will be if they succeed in finding a supply in that faraway locality I am unable to realize, as the population is very limited and transportation out of that region is difficult."

"We had a splendid trip. Nobody was injured this summer of all the 175 persons who joined in the tramping of the Sierra Club. This is the largest attendance the club has ever had while on its annual tramping in the mountains and indicates how popular mountain climbing and such an outing has become."

BUNCOED, HE CLAIMS, IN MATRIMONY GAME

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—That his wife told him she was 20 years old and proved to be 50, and that she was once the companion of Charles Cherry, man about town in San Francisco in the 1890s, were causes which added to P. Parks' decision to get a divorce yesterday from Carrie G. Parks. The woman is now in San Francisco, the scene of her earlier adventures.

Parks wept while Cherry gave evidence to the effect that years ago, when Cherry was "a rounder in those happy days in San Francisco," as he put it, he provided an apartment for the woman who later became Mrs. Parks. Cherry was once stenographer in the San Francisco Police Court, and says his pay was about $500 a month. He lobbied on the witness stand with a cane. Parks said that when he was married he was but a boy from the country and the woman imposed on him and later deserted him.

REALTY MEN PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Association Will Meet Tonight
to Prepare for Big State
Gathering

A meeting of the real estate men of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley will be held at the Realty Association offices, First National Bank building tonight, and plans for the State convention to be held here on August 12, 13 and 14 will be discussed. Local arrangements are well in hand, and this evening's meeting is intended to enlist the sympathy of every real estate dealer on this side of the bay in the program.

"We are going to send the largest delegation to Oakland that was ever sent from one city to a real estate convention," writes Hubert Burdette of Los Angeles. "They are all talking about it down here and I wouldn't be surprised to see a special train chartered for the trip, because the Los Angeles boys certainly have plans to make a fine showing in Oakland."

Sacramento Too

D. W. Carmichael of Sacramento, president of the State Federation, said the real estate men of Sacramento valley were enthusiastic over the coming convention. "Oakland has done herself proud in the manner in which her citizens are handling this convention," said Carmichael. "This convention, beyond question, will eclipse any real estate gathering ever held in California, not only by the good which is bound to be accomplished during its sessions, but for fraternal reasons as well. It is the duty of every real estate man in California to attend. It is an obligation we owe our State, our profession, and our individual businesses, to give this convention our time, our best thoughts and ideas. Every one should take part in its deliberations, for by so doing he may make suggestions that will materially help to build up, elevate and strengthen his profession."

Mayor Mott, chairman of the entertainment and program committee, has made up the program, and selected the various speakers. He will announce the program as soon as he has received acceptances from those he has asked to speak.

Contributions Liberal

The entire city has shown a disposition to contribute, but local real estate men preferred otherwise, with the result that all of the amount raised came from the real estate men themselves.

"We figured that this convention belonged to us," said W. J. Leyman, secretary, "and we are all taking a sort of personal pride in financing it. We could have raised thousands of dollars by going to people in other lines of business, but we all preferred to do the entertaining without our own money, and so it all came from the real estate men."

WANTS DIVORCE FROM 'MEAN MAN'

Painter Would Not Even Let Wife Talk German, She Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Because "he was the meanest man she ever knew" and wouldn't let her speak German, her native tongue, even around the house, Mrs. Jesse T. Meddock, wife of a painter, wants a divorce.

In her testimony in Judge Trout's court yesterday she further alleged that her husband has not shown a proper appreciation of their 8-year-old son, and told a harrowing story of his abuse of her family.

"He called me a dope fiend, though you can believe me or not, I don't know what dope is," asserted Mrs. Meddock on the stand, and, growing tearful, added:

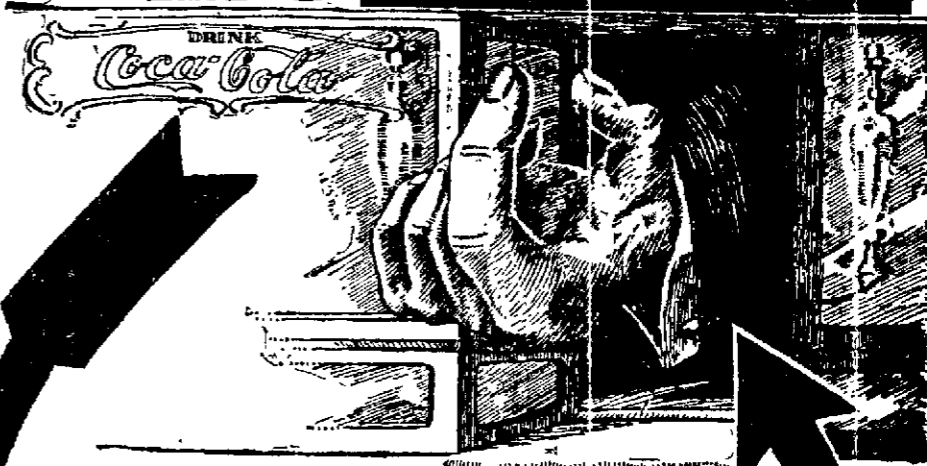

Threatens to Kill

"He's been threatening to kill me for a year." The plaintiff's sister, Elizabeth Hertzog, added details to the picture. She said that Meddock took no interest in the festivals, not even in Christmas, and spoiled the family's pleasure by poisoning Santa Claus.

"Most of my sister's married life was spent on a ranch in Sonoma county," the witness declared. "The nearest neighbor was a mile and a half away, and he would leave her here alone with the child for months at a time. They might both have died and nobody would have been the wiser. She was a fresh, bright, happy girl when she married him. It has made a different woman out of her."

HEART-TRIBUNE'S PAGE FOR WOMEN--HOME

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. George Jones, who was formerly Miss Ruth Green and one of the most popular girls in local society, has come up from her home in Tonopah to visit her mother, Mrs. Adam Green of Berkeley, and to spend some delightful days with her relatives in Oakland.

Her many friends are planning all sorts of pleasant affairs for her and in a week or so, when others have returned to town, she is to be the recipient of many pretty social attentions.

PLEASANT OUTINGS.
Mrs. William E. Milwain and her sister, Miss Kate Beauvais, have just returned to Oakland after spending the summer days most pleasantly.

Mrs. Milwain has been sojourning at the Abby, Mill Valley, for the past six weeks and Miss Beauvais spent many delightful days at Independence Lake, and afterwards at Lake Tahoe and Alpine Glen.

AFTERNOON AT CARDS.
Miss Lorena Ducker has invited a few friends to spend tomorrow afternoon at her home on Twenty-seventh street. A game of cards will be enjoyed by the dozen or so young friends of the hostess. Miss Ducker entertains frequently at small out delightful affairs, and is popular among her social set.

AT AETNA SPRINGS.
Many prominent people of this city have enjoyed the summer days this season at Aetna Springs.

P. E. Bowles, George D. Metcalf, George M. Bowles and Robert Bowles spent the week end at this springs.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ingram have returned to Oakland after a delightful week at the interesting resort. Mr. and Mrs. Henry St. Coar, Miss St. Coar, Miss Helen St. Coar, Fred and Charles St. Coar, Miss Macfarlane of Honolulu, Miss Hotelling, Miss Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Smith were members of an auto party that recently motored to Aetna Springs.

RETURN TO OAKLAND.
T. E. Edwards and his daughters, Miss Mary and Miss Gertrude Edwards, have returned from a delightful stay in the southern part of the State, where they were the guests of Mr. Edwards' sister, Mrs. Mary Constable. They spent the past month at the Pierce cottage at Pacific Grove, where their many friends were hospitably entertained.

TO GO TO LOS ANGELES.
Mrs. Clarence Sherman will spend the month of August in and about Los Angeles, where her friends are preparing to give her many social attentions.

RETURN FROM OUTING.
Mrs. D. A. McKel and her charming daughter, Mrs. McKel, returned to their Berkeley home on Monday, after a most interesting stay in Lake county.

DANCING PARTY.
Miss Valentine Ligda was hostess recently at an enjoyable evening affair, entertaining a happy group of young people. Dancing was the feature of the gathering and was followed by an elaborate supper. Among those present were Miss Carmelita Thorsell, Miss Bertha Lindsey, Miss Hazel Cook of San Francisco, Miss Grace Redmond, Miss Ned Lindsey, Harry Peters, Edward Allen, Roy Hand, Carl Zuboff, Peter Ligda, Victor Ligda and others.

WEDDING DATE.
Miss Louise Eastman, the charming daughter of Mrs. Joseph Steele Eastman, has set September 25th as the date for her wedding with Samuel Weston. The ceremony will be performed at St. John's Presbyterian Church, in the presence of a large number of guests.

Mr. Weston is the son of the B. F. Westons and is a popular young man and possesses exceptional business ability.

MUSICAL EVENING.
A number of music lovers of the local set went out to Fruitvale on Monday night to attend the opening of the Upper Fruitvale School of Music, of which Mrs. Camilla Euermeister is principal and founder.

The school is ideally located and the guests of the evening were entertained hospitably.

Among those who contributed to the excellent program were Vincent de Arce, Carlos, Marlene, Lyman and several other well known folk of the local musical colony. Mrs. Euermeister sang a group of German songs and altogether the affair was most enjoyable.

LUNCHEON GUEST.
Miss Marion Wilcox, the gifted daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wilcox will be the guest of honor at a large luncheon tomorrow at which Mrs. H. A. Nieuwland will preside at her attractive home in San Francisco.

The guest list includes a number of friends from both sides of the bay. Miss Wilcox will leave on next Monday for the East and will be away a year, and many pretty farewell affairs have already been given for her. She will go to Chicago to resume her musical studies and will be accompanied by her mother, who intends visiting relatives and friends throughout the eastern and southern states.

GUESTS IN PIEDMONT.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huntington of Pasadena are the guests of Mrs. M. A. Huntington at her home in Piedmont, where they intend to spend a month or more and where they will be glad to see their old-time friends.

Mrs. Howard Huntington was Miss Leslie Green until her marriage a few years ago and is considered one of our most beautiful young matrons.

There will doubtless be many pleasant affairs planned to welcome her home.

A LARGE RECEPTION.
A reception that brought together representatives of the oldest and best families on this side of the bay was that presided over today by Mrs. M. A. Bates at her home in Vernon Heights. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. George Martin of Berlin, who for the past few weeks has been the guest of Oakland relatives.

have returned to Oakland after spending six weeks with the Sierra Club, seeing the marvellously beautiful scenery of the Yosemite, enjoying camp life and becoming efficient in all sorts of out door sports.

This was de Grassi's first outing in California and he speaks most highly of our wonderful State.

On next Friday Signor de Grassi will be a guest at the Bohemian Club's low links to be held at the grove. He has promised to play a number of violin selections, thus adding much to the delightful program.

On Saturday he will be a guest at the high links and will then also contribute musical numbers.

RETURN FROM MONTE RIO.
Mrs. E. L. Smith, who has been spending the past month at Monte Rio on the

MRS. GEORGE JONES, Who Is Visiting Oakland Relatives.

Ruassan River, has returned to town and to her home on Forty-first street. Mrs. Smith is a charming matron and popular among a wide circle of friends.

IN LOS GATOS.
The Ernest Porters of Alameda, who have a beautiful summer home in Los Gatos, have entertained most hospitably this season. Recently they motored to their town residence and on returning took as their guest Miss Edith Porter who is now at the delightful country place enjoying an ideal outing.

Women Who Dance Are Deluded Souls SAYS THIS PASTOR

SELINGROVE, Pa.—Denouncing dancing in the most scathing sermon ever delivered from a local pulpit the Rev. Allen C. Shue, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, here, today surprised his auditors with his plain speaking. Mr. Shue said in part:

"It is not my business to seek popularity, but to save souls. Being convinced that dancing is an enemy of righteousness, which interferes greatly with the working of the church and leads many to ruin, I must for the glory of God speak against it. I do not say that all who dance are wicked, but that they are either deluded souls or lack the spirit of the Master. If this evil were fully exposed, no doubt many who now defend it would cry out against the evil."

"Dancing is an enemy of the church. The largest denomination in America forbids its members to dance. Nearly all ministers are opposed to it. Can it be possible that these men of God are mistaken in this and that it is only a harmless recreation?"

"Dancing does far more than dull the spiritual life. It becomes in many cases a very stepping stone to hell. The modern dance is disgraceful. The position the girl takes is unbecomingly. If she were seen in that position with a man at any other place she would be considered indecent."

"What is it that makes young people so fond of the dance? Is it the dance itself? Could some of the conversations of the dancers be heard, you would not think so. And yet the most respectable people will hug and be hugged in public in company with some who are worse than brutes."

"After the ball, what?"

or eighteen acres. As yet these small holdings are let to women only, but as other of the farms become vacant and are divided men may have the privilege of renting.

An instance of the use to which these little farms are put is found in the case of a Scotch woman who has eighteen acres. Ten of these are devoted to cereals of various kinds and an acre to strawberries and the rest is under grass. Whether such a holding will pay is as yet uncertain.

Most of the small plots are devoted to some one crop, tomatoes having been chosen by one woman who leases an acre.

Mrs. Martin has not stopped with providing the ground. She is looking out also for the social welfare of her tenants. The old manor house has been turned into a club, while an old farmhouse has been fitted over for the use of the men.

Will Send Women to Congress

Will Make Determined Effort to Elect Mrs. Sarah P. Decker Two Years Hence

Conservation of the Nation's Children Would Be Her Hobby if Elected

DENVER.—The women of Colorado are to make a stubborn effort to send one of their sex to Congress two years hence. Such was the announcement made to the visiting delegates from the International Council of Women by one who spoke for the women's associations in the State.

"Of course it is difficult to tell whether we will be successful in our efforts or not," said Mrs. Harriet Wright, former member of the State Legislature, "but we are looking forward to landing a woman in the halls of Congress, and we certainly are going to make a determined trial."

Lady McMullan, who talked suffrage to the House of Lords for four hours and then stopped only because they ordered her to, brought out the statement. She put this question to the Denver women who were entertaining her: "When are you women going to send a woman to Congress?"

The reply was quick and decisive: "In two years."

All are agreed that Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker is to be the candidate.

In Two Years
Mrs. Decker herself says she has never considered the matter seriously owing to her belief that there is a Federal statute or constitutional provision that women cannot be members of either house of Congress.

She believes, however, that they should be entitled to seats in the nation's Legislature, and is confident that their presence there would be beneficial to the people.

One of her chief hobbies is a drastic anti-child labor law, and she says she has become almost hopeless of securing its passage by men, either in State Legislatures or in Congress. She thinks if women could get into these legislative bodies they would quickly pass laws to conserve the nation's children, which she deems of far greater importance than the conservation of natural resources.

Cannon Not Worried

WASHINGTON.—Congress is "all set up" at the prospect of a woman member from Colorado. Speaker Cannon alone is undisturbed.

"Whether we have to cross on a bridge in a buggy, an automobile or afoot, or whether we have to swim or to get over in an airplane, is unimportant, and we needn't worry, because we don't have to cross the stream until we come to it."

Thus the Speaker dismisses all thought of the coming of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, the suffragette's choice for election to the House two years hence.

The terrible possibilities of the invasion of women was pointed out to the Speaker, but he declined to get frightened. He did explore the effect on some of the younger members should the nominees of the suffragettes be young brunettes and sweet young Titian blondes. He feared that some promising careers might be wrecked by the distraction of "dancing" in the House, but for himself he saw no reason to worry.

What She'd Do

Just what a woman coming to Congress would do is a field for the widest speculation. In the first place she might condemn smoking in the cloakrooms, or worse still, she might insist on a separate cloakroom for herself. Again she might insist on wearing a Merry Widow hat in the House, thus blocking from the view of the Speaker one-third of the membership. The gavel, as a silencer, might become a failure, and the rules providing for the closing of debate might go to

MRS. SARAH PLATT DECKER, of Denver, Colorado. The women there declare they will send her to Congress.

Muses Fail To Work Here

"Neath Azure Skies, Forlorn" FAILED TO WIN WIFE BACK

CHICAGO.—James Phillips, who married a daughter of the Rev. T. R. F. Dornblaser, of Grace Evangelical Church, and who is now suing his wife's father for $5000 damages for alleged alienation of his wife's affections, includes in his bill of complaint a poem and a hymn.

In introducing his poem, Phillips says in his bill: "Numerous letters have been sent by plaintiff to his wife, couched in the most affectionate strain, asking her to return to a home he will furnish and property maintain for her. And when the pleadings of prose failed to arouse his wife to a sense of love and duty, he was constrained to call in the help of the muses in trying to make an impression on his wife's heart."

This is what is tried to impress her with:

"Neath azure skies forlorn I stood,
While lovers smiled on maidens fair;
The amorous scene was a solitude
Went thou not there, wert thou not there

If palace and the sea were mine,
And Croesus' wealth should be my share
Bliss would not be to my heart entwined,
Wert thou not there, wert thou not there

And when life's pathway I have crossed,
Eternal joy in heaven would be lost,
My sweetest bliss would be to part,
Wert thou not there, wert thou not there

And then some more.
The verse and hymn had no effect.
Mrs. Phillips said:
"My husband a used me and could not support me. That is all there is in it. I had to return with my children to my father. He may write poetry till doomsday, but no more Phillips for me."

Don't Ever Marry in "Ole Lunnion," Says Victim

NEW YORK.—R. W. Howard, of the United Press, who returned on the Kaiser Wilhelm II, with his bride, who was Miss Margaret Rehe, sister of Miss Alice Rehe, newspaper writer, of this city. He went to London the last of May, the wedding taking place June 5.

"If you can possibly avoid it don't get married in London," is Mr. Howard's advice. "You have to take out about fourteen kinds of permits and then they decide what church you shall be married in. You have to give more tips there than on a transatlantic liner. After paying the rector his fee I had to tip nearly the whole parish and finally the vicar and his wife for standing up with us."

Women Getting More Sensible Each Year About Shoes

"The women of the country are becoming more sensible every year in the kind of shoes they wear," said a shoe salesman. "Today shoes which are made for women differ only in size from those that the men wear. Fifteen years ago a woman's shoe had a paper sole and laces on the side. Instead of in the front. Now they wear a thick solid sole of the 'sensible' pattern, with the laces in the proper place for them."

Hair Tonic Explodes in the Hands of Philadelphia Woman, Who May Die

PHILADELPHIA.—While putting a few finishing touches upon her coiffure yesterday morning in her sunnier home at Clayton, N. J., Mrs. Armour, wife of John J. Armour, broker, of Philadelphia, held a bottle of hair tonic near the gas flame over which she had heated a curling iron. Suddenly the work blew out and the stuff caught fire, like a miniature fountain throwing a blazing liquid all over the woman.

Mrs. Armour's hair was in flames and her clothing burning. In agony, shrieking with excruciating pain, she tried in vain to extinguish the blaze by covering her head and face in the bedclothing. But this, too, caught fire.

She ran out in the hallway and tried to get outdoors. Other members of the family hurried to her assistance, and finally put out the fire. Mrs. Armour was burned on her face, neck and the upper part of her body; the injuries being so extensive that death may result. Mr. Armour called Dr. Ogden, who advised that skillful surgical aid and hospital attendance were imperative. The injured woman was hurried to Camden, where an automobile was waiting to take her to Jefferson Hospital. The trip was made in record time.

In case of Mrs. Armour's death a rigid inquiry will be made by the authorities, who will insist upon knowing where the hair tonic came from and by whom it was compounded.

The Armour family recently notified the Burson home for a country residence. Mrs. Armour holds her marriage was Miss Myra Edwards of Jaxton. This Philadelphia home is at 1340 North Park avenue and Mr. Armour's place of business at 125 North Ninth street.

Bride and Groom Forget License and Delay Wedding

NEW YORK.—While a large number of guests waited in the Salem Lutheran Church in Prospect avenue, Brooklyn, on Tuesday evening, Solon Servenson and Miss Annie Krough, both of Perth Amboy, N. J., had to go to Jersey City to have their marriage ceremony performed. They had neglected to procure the necessary license in New York, and the omission was not discovered until the last minute.

The situation was explained to the assembly of guests by the Rev. Theodore P. Beck, pastor of Salem Church, and the best man and the maid of honor, John Thompson, of Perth Amboy and Miss Catherine Johnson of Brooklyn went with the bride and bridegroom to Jersey City for the ceremony and afterward returned with them to Brooklyn, where the guests had waited for the belated reception in the church.

let him see them. The little girl wept when he was near her.

When he was leaving the house that day, Moore asserted his mother-in-law said: "If you try to get the children you'll get a bullet."

Mrs. Johnson denies she ever used such an expression.

In an effort to prove that his wife was an unfit person to have charge of the children, Moore presented the affidavit of his sister, Mrs. Louise Moore, of No. 120 Moore street, Providence, R. I. She set forth what she said was a confession made to her by Mrs. Moore. Miss Moore asserted her sister-in-law was too friendly with a New York broker, Harry Greene.

"Mrs. Moore boasted to me that she had made a conquest over Greene," Miss Moore said. "She said Greene had called on her many times when her husband was absent and had lashed money on her. She seemed proud of her conquest over Greene, who was a married man with two children."

QUESTIONS

(By Helen Combes.)

If a lover meet a lover on a summer's day
Strolling through a quiet meadow, sweet with new-mown hay;
If a lover meet a lover, what I ask is this,
Should a lover greet a lover with a lover's kiss?

If a lover stops a lover just to say a word,
Nobody to listen but a field mouse and a bird,
While a lover tells a lover as they waiting stand
That a lover loves a lover, should he hold her hand?

If a lover, honest lover, but with naught to guide,
Trembling, shy and timid, should meekly stand aside,
Let a lover pass a lover dumb but heart aflame,
Should a lover blame a lover who is not to blame?

If a lover meet a lover whom she knows is shy,
Such a man as one I know, such a girl as I,
Should a lover, willing lover, who without a doubt
Knows a lover loves her truly, help a lover out?

WHITE'S LIFE TO BE GONE OVER BY THAW

Attorney Getting Ready to Prove Client's Delusions Were Well Founded.

DR. AUSTIN FLINT IS AGAIN PUT ON STAND

Spectators Amused by Introduction of Baking Powder Indorsement in Court

WHITE PLAINS, Aug. 4.—Harry K. Thaw's attorney is getting ready to prove that his client's alleged delusions regarding Stanford White's treatment of young girls are well founded. He prepared the way for this when he had Pearl identify the affidavit of Ada C. Dickhart. This document has not been offered in evidence yet, but it is supposed to be the basis of his case.

Dr. Flint Resumes

Dr. Austin Flint, who yesterday said Thaw was a paranoid and incurable again took the stand today.

Morschauer examined him regarding the sanity of Mrs. Pendelope Osborn, in which he testified as an expert in 1907. Thaw's lawyer declared Dr. Flint's testimony in this woman's case, although he called her as a paranoiac.

Amuses the Court

Dr. Morschauer asked the courtroom when he held it a can of baking powder with Dr. Flint's signed indorsement printed on the label and said it contained aluminum.

He then enabled him to explain that he was employed in 1907 in a bakery, powder "Japan" to investigate the effects of alum in baking powder.

"I did not endorse an endorsement," he declared, and I threatened to bring legal action if it was used.

Different From Thaw

Dr. Flint told Jerome that Mrs. Osborn's delusion was not a "paranoia" but a "paranoid" and that she was a "paranoid" and not a "paranoiac" as Thaw said. He said that she was a "paranoid" and not a "paranoiac" as Thaw said.

Last of Experts

Jerome then called the last of his experts, Dr. McDonald, president of the New York State Commission on Lunacy. Jerome read passage regarding paranoiacs from several medical authorities, these having a seeming application to Thaw and the witness expressed his agreement. To illustrate the danger of releasing a paranoiac in McDonald told of a case of a man in Albany, N. Y., who came under his observation. This man has a delusion that his sister was performing certain improper acts.

Tells of Killing

After trying to kill her, he was confined to the Auburn Asylum. He stayed there six months, having declared that his delusion had vanished and was discharged. He returned immediately to Albany and killed his sister. This man is now in the insane asylum at Utica.

Declares Thaw Incurable

Dr. McDonald concluded by declaring that Thaw now suffered from "paranoia of the degenerate type." By degenerate, he explained, was meant a person who has never attained the moral type. He pronounced Thaw incurable.

Dwelt upon the liability of the recurrence of outbreaks like that which resulted in the death of Stanford White. He characterized Thaw's manner on the witness stand at the present hearing as "frivolous" and "showing a poor appreciation of the importance of the proceedings of his own position."

Lovers Surprise Relatives by Changing Date of Nuptials

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD H. ATKINSON (Nee Susie M. Ferch), Who Were Married This Morning.

A wedding announcement that will come as a great surprise to the friends of the young couple is that of Miss Susie M. Ferch and Richard H. Atkinson, Jr. The ceremony every one thought would take place next month, but the young lady saw fit to disappoint all those who looked for an invitation and the important event occurred this morning at 1 o'clock in the pretty flat occupied by the bride and her sisters, the Misses Sara E. Josephine, Ella and Lydia Ferch.

Next month has, evening, did the sisters know that there was to be a wedding in their home, but they hurriedly ordered an abundance of flowers and all sorts of good things and after all the ceremony was a very pretty one. The bride wore a handsome tailored suit, with a black plume hat trimmed with white plumes and carried a large bouquet of bride roses.

The Rev. George W. White was the officiating clergyman. Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson left for the south, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The bride is a sweet singer and a member of the choir of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Atkinson is district manager of a large eastern concern, and both young people have a host of friends in and about Oakland. Other relatives and friends who witnessed this morning's pretty ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moorman and Louis Rohrer.

ROOSEVELT SEES AFRICA'S FUTURE

Says Dark Continent Will Be Abode of White Men Hereafter

NAIROBI, British East Africa, Aug. 4.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son Kermit were the guests of honor at a public banquet here last night. Frederick J. Jackson, governor of British East Africa, was chairman, and 175 persons sat at the table. Captain Sanderson, town clerk, and afterward handed him the address, enclosed in a section of elephant tusk, mounted in silver and with a silver chain.

The American residents presented Roosevelt with a tobacco box made of the hoof of a rhinoceros, silver mounted, the skull of a rhinoceros, also mounted in silver, and a buffalo head.

Roosevelt in reply to Governor Jackson's toast said:

"I wish to take this opportunity to thank the people of British East Africa for their generous and courteous hospitality. I have had a thorough good time here. I am immensely interested in the country and its possibilities as an abode for white men. Very large tracts are fit for a fine population and healthy and prosperous settlements, and it would be a calamity to neglect them."

"I believe that one of the best feats performed by members of the white race in the last ten years is the building of the Uganda railroad. I am convinced this country has a great agricultural and industrial future and it is the most attractive part of the world. It most certainly presents excellent openings for capitalists and ample inducements should be offered them to come here. The home maker and actual settler and not the speculator should be encouraged in making this a white man's country."

"Remember that righteousness and our real ultimate self-interest demand that the blacks be treated justly. I have no patience with sentimentalists and I think that sentimentality does more harm to individuals than brutality. Therefore I believe in helping the missionary of whatever creed, who is laboring sincerely and humbly and with practical good sense."

"It is natural that I should have a peculiar good feeling for settlers. They remind me of the men in our west with whom I worked and in whose aspirations I am deeply sympathetic."

Roosevelt compared the conditions as he found them in British East Africa with those confronting the pioneers of Western America.

TOURISTS ARE LEAVING PRIOR TO ANY OUTBREAK

Strikers Likely to Call Out Every Worker, Shutting Off Food Supply.

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 4.—The labor conflict in Sweden shows signs this morning of becoming more acute. The ranks of the strikers are considerably swelled. The fact that the troops are guarding the gas works and the electric lighting plant has increased the workmen, whose leaders threaten to call out all the men unless the soldiers are withdrawn. The strikers' union this morning resolved to postpone for the present any decision to go on strike.

A corps of workmen, some thousand strong, is being organized for the purpose of maintaining order and the people generally, bankers, merchants, etc., are arming themselves for self-protection. The gun shops of the city are practically denuded of revolvers and small arms.

Tourists Leave City

All tourists have left Stockholm and the number of visitors now in the city is smaller than at this season for many years.

Although railroad men have decided not to strike, the government is taking the precaution to guard the tracks with troops. Quantities of dynamite are reported to have mysteriously disappeared from the stores. The leaders of the strikers claim that the end of the week will see a notable spread of the movement; that the railroad postal, telegraph and telephone employees and the printers will by that time have joined the strike.

Food Supply Low

All milk supplies have been cut off and thousands of babies are suffering from lack of nourishment.

The streets of Stockholm are filled with idlers who protest at the lack of food and the volunteers street cleaners, many of whom belong to the better classes.

All the ferries have stopped running, and there is little communication between Stockholm and the suburbs reached by water routes. This fact will result in a further diminution of the food supply. For the present all is quiet, but trouble is expected when the stock of food begins to run down.

WHAT THE SANTA FE SAYS ABOUT OAKLAND

The Santa Fe Railroad has just issued a folder entitled "Summer Outings in California." Referring to Oakland, the folder says:

"Oakland, across the bay, is a thriving city. Important as a railroad terminus and shipping port, it is really a part of the Greater San Francisco, and yet retains a marked individuality of its own."

"Immediately north of Oakland, and practically bordering it, is the university town of Berkeley. Here is the seat of the University of California, one of the oldest and best-equipped institutions west of the Mississippi."

TOTAL ABSTINENCE NOT PRACTICABLE IN LARGER CITIES

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Cardinal Gibbons, head of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States, and recognized as a hearty supporter of the cause of temperance, last evening declared that enforced total abstinence in Chicago and other large cities would be impracticable. The revocation of all selling licenses, he declared, would result in a surreptitious sale of liquor.

"I am heartily in sympathy with the total abstinence movement," Cardinal Gibbons said. "It is a wide movement and I hope it will spread to the most remote corners of the nation. In the rural parts of the country and in the smaller towns and cities there is every sign that the campaign is gaining foothold which eventually must mean success and widespread prohibition."

"However much I am in favor of total abstinence, though, I feel that in the large cities, such as Chicago, it would prove impracticable, and if laws providing for the revocation of licenses were enforced in these cities, I fear the result would be the surreptitious sale of liquor."

"The problem is one which will require much time and the best efforts of our legislators and statesmen to solve."

Sensational Story Is Told by Girl

MISS ADA MULLANEY, Who Was Attacked and Knocked Down in Front of Her House.

Attacked and knocked down in front of her home, 573 Sixth street, by a man who had followed her from work last night at 9:30, pretty Miss Ada Mullaney, 18 years of age, swore to a complaint this morning against the man who accosted her and whom she identified immediately after she had regained her composure and was able to run back to Ye Liberty Bakery, Seventh and Washington streets, where she telephoned to the police station.

Policeman O'Grady was detailed on the case and upon arriving at the girl's house he found the strange man waiting there, expecting the young woman to return. He was booked at the police station as Tom Logan, a solicitor. There the arrest was made and Miss Mullaney had no hesitancy in saying that he was the man.

Falls in Faint

Upon reaching the bakery, where she is employed as cashier, she fainted and for a few moments was dizzy. The man seized her suddenly from behind and threw her to the street. She tried to get up, using all her strength until his grasp was relaxed. She did not stop to enter her home, but hastened to Washington street and then she ran to the police station. She did not scream for help, as she feared he would make a successful escape if she did. Miss Mullaney lost no time in calling the authorities, who found a queer looking short man with a derby hat and bearded face.

Called at Bakery

The girl declared that she had seen the man in the Ye Liberty Bakery restaurant, where he ate his meal at 8:30 last evening, and he waited there for her to depart. Upon observing that she was about to leave the store he made ready to follow in her footsteps. He had watched her from the moment he went into the restaurant until he walked out soon after 9 o'clock. He did not speak a word, but kept a fair distance behind. The girl had no intimation that the man was so near but an hour before threatened to hurt her. In the store she had scarcely noticed him, as it had been the first time he had ever taken a meal there or made any purchases. He had the appearance of a laboring man.

Miss Mullaney is the daughter of Mrs. M. Mullaney of 573 Sixth street and is an active member of Bay Vista Yacht Club. N. D. C. W. She is an attractive brunette. For many years she has made her home in this city where she is popular and well liked among her friends in the bay cities.

PROPOSES TO PROHIBIT TRANSFER OF LICENSES

ALAMEDA, Aug. 4.—Providing that no more liquor licenses be transferred from one party to another in this city a resolution was introduced into the city council last night by Councilman Crampton. There was no second for the resolution and it even a slimming for the time being. It is likely that it will be brought up before the committee of the whole within a short time. Councilman Crampton's resolution also provided that all those who desired to abandon a license should be given a pro rata of the money paid for it, and that a new application for a license be filed by all parties desiring such a permit.

DUFFEY LEWIS' HOME RUN DEFEATS VERNONITES

CRACK OAKLAND OUTFIELDER MAKES ONLY RUN OF EXCITING GAME AT FREEMAN'S

BRACKENRIDGE AND BOICE TWIRL GREAT BALL, ALLOWING THREE HITS APIECE

By HERMAN F. BUDDE.

It is not often that a game is decided on a home run, but Duffey Lewis performed the unusual when his homer to center field gave the Athletics a 3 to 0 victory over the Vernonites in the first game of the present series played yesterday at Freeman's Park. It was in the sixth inning, after two of the Oaks were in the hands of the undertaker, that the Alameda took his place at the rubber. Without a moment's hesitation he drove the third ball pitched square over second. Stovall misjudged it and ran up instead of back. The ball raised as it traveled and went over the head of the center fielder, going underneath the score board. By the time it was recovered Lewis "circuited."

Had not Duffey come through when he did the game very likely would have extended into an extra inning affair. Both Brackenridge and Boice were unhit, only three bingles being secured off either. Both had their curves working in great shape and, as a general rule, the sides were retired in one, two, three fashion. Manager Hogan was the first to elicit safety, but he was out trying to stretch a double into a triple. Lewis' homer was the first hit by the Athletics. In the seventh and eighth Cameron and Ragan singled, but home plate looked as far away as a spring does on a thirsty day in the deserts.

Vernon nearly "did" something in their half of the eighth. That they did not score they have only themselves to blame, for Oakland allowed them an opportunity. Ragan hit safely and was forced out by Coy. Mott's whack to right held place Coy on third. A moment later, when a double steal was attempted, Boice should have caught Coy off third, and when La Longe missed a curve the Vernonites should have scored, but the upshot of the whole inning was that after Hogan was walked, filling the bases, Brackenridge retired the side by striking out. He had one grand opportunity to be a hero, but was not equal to the occasion.

The Oakland infield showed up very well. McKune started the ball rolling with a pair of fast double plays and Boice stopped a line drive in the second inning off Logan's bat, robbing "Truck" of a hit. The best work in fielding was executed by Brackenridge. He is without doubt one of the best fielding pitchers in the Coast League. On bunts, grounders and drives stands his reputation. Time and again during the game he grabbed grass-cutters and sacrifice hits.

The game was pulled off in remarkably fast time. The first six and a half innings went by in three-quarters of an hour. It would have gone quicker only Happy Hogan lost considerable time putting on his armor. Hogan, in addition to a chest protector, wears a pair of high shin and leg guards. He looks something like the knights of old, and all he needs to be a cavalier is a lance and shield.

One of the interested spectators at the game was "Buck" Franks, who formerly played shortstop for the Athletics. He has just returned from the Western League, where he was manager for the Omaha Club. "Buck" says that he has not been released, but admits that he cannot get along with those at the head of the organization.

J. W. Brooks, owner of the Vernon Club, and Jack Gleason were also at the park. Gleason is back after a couple of months' absence and looking the picture of health. He states that his trip East was highly successful and that in all probability another one of the major leagues will be seen here next spring in addition to the White Sox.

The batting order of the Athletics has been changed. Hogan now precedes Cameron and Ragan comes after La Longe. McKune is taking the place of Ragan on short and yesterday held down the spot like a Hans Wagner. He covered pits of ground and nipped perfectly.

Bill Reidy has a "bushy" in uniform by the name of Gillespie, who hails from Arbuckle, where he is considered a player with a future. He took part in the practice before the game and handled himself well. He will be given a try-out.

Gibson Girls Galore Gyrate
Gracefully on Orpheum Stage

MISS CLARA NELSON, the "Gibson Widow," with the Electrified Girl Review at the Oakland Orpheum this week.

It is a fast and furious vaudeville show that the crowds are feasting upon at the Oakland Orpheum this week. Beautiful women in abundance are on the stage and there are, besides, some mighty clever fun makers and wonderfully good entertainers from Europe. It is the greatest vaudeville show that theater goers here have had handed to them for a long, long time.

Everybody has heard of the "Gibson Girl," and naturally there is a vast amount of curiosity to see what sort of a picture half a dozen beautiful "Gibson Girls" would make on the stage. That curiosity is fully gratified at the Orpheum this week. There are Gibson girls galore there.

There are so many to look at that the eyes are dazzled by the beauty they display. These "Gibson Girls" come singly, they come on in pairs, they come on in sextettes. Each of them has that languid air of well bred indifference, which Charles Dana Gibson has identified with his portraits of the typical American society maiden.

A lot of money has been spent for some dazzling electrical effects in this Gibson Girl review. There is a big yacht scene in which all the maidens are seen aboard a swiftly moving yacht, giving the impression of a bevy of beauties having a sail on the briny deep. There is a series of tableaux in which one sees the "Gibson Widow" in a variety of poses. Some of Charles Dana Gibson's best known pictures are represented in these tableaux.

a hero of Julius Tannen, a handsome youth with a clever lot of pleasing stories, imitations of Raymond Hitchcock, David Warfield and others. He is altogether as good a monologist as one sees in a month of Sundays.

For those who fancy European acrobatic stunts, there are the Three Donais, handsomely formed men who perform a variety of wonderful muscular feats.

Marvelous Changes

Charlotte Parry's marvelous work in the protean line, as displayed in her playlet, "The Cornstalk Mystery," is a big feature of the show. Miss Parry assumes seven different characters in quick succession and succeeds in making each character stand out, despite the widely separated types of men and women she portrays.

Eleena Frederick's beautiful voice is heard to rare advantage in "The Patriot," the one-act opera which is as classic as vaudeville bills often become. The company surrounding Miss Frederick is composed of splendid singers, and the ensemble in "The Patriot" is delightful to both the eye and the ear.

The fun is fast and furious while the Three Ledgions are on the stage in their sketch "A One Night Stand in Minstrelsy."

Selma Braatz, the girl juggler from Europe is a unique and delightful feature of the show.

The management announces that Sam Watson's clever "Farm Yard Circus," will be the leading feature of the new bill that goes on next Sunday afternoon.

Sparkling Lily Lena

Sparkling like a diamond is Lily Lena, who comes close to winning the lion's share of honors on the big vaudeville bill. Lily Lena is an English girl, dainty as a lot of Dresden china, talented and skilled in the art of singing dainty story songs. She is a fit type of the high-class, English music hall artist, who, during the last few years, have taken theater goers in New York by storm. Lily Lena is the cleverest of the lot and is incidentally the first to visit the Pacific Coast. She wears half a dozen beautiful gowns, changing them in rapid succession between her songs.

Some of her songs are being hummed and whistled around the town already. The most popular are "Swing Me Higher, Oondah," "The Beautiful Sea," "You Will Find That Will Be All Right." The matinee girls are likely to make

Comes to Those Who Use
Samose, Says Druggist
Wishart.

The poor, thin, emaciated person, when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and give you full vigor and vitality Druggist Wishart will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

UNIONS PREPARE FOR LABOR DAY

Elaborate Arrangements Being Made for Picnic and Parade in September.

AT the last meeting of the joint committee of arrangements from unions on this side of the bay, as also from the unions of San Francisco, for the picnic at Shellmound Park, which is to be held under the auspices of the labor councils on both sides of the bay on Labor Day, the first Monday in September, a great deal of routine business was transacted.

All of the sub-committees reported progress and all of the members reported that they had never seen such enthusiasm displayed in advance of any entertainment under labor auspices in the past. The committee on tickets reported that the cards would be distributed in this city as well as in San Francisco and that the unions in Alameda county were working as enthusiastically for the success of the undertaking as were those in the metropolis.

There will be an excellent program affording the patrons almost numberless means of entertaining themselves and also providing those who desire to engage in athletic sports an opportunity which has never before been excelled in that park and under any auspices.

There is not a union in this city which is affiliated with either the Building Trades Council or the Central Labor Council, which is not now engaged in the matter of determining how it is to appear in the great procession which is to be held in this county on Labor Day. Following the example of the city, the Supervisors of the county will accede to the wishes of the labor unions and decorate the buildings in this city over which they exercise control. These decorations will remain up three days and during that time there will be a general deference paid to the cause of labor, which is in a special manner to be honored on Monday, the first of that month.

The processions which have been held on Labor Day in this city have been on a plane with those of the largest cities in the country. Of course, numerically considered, the processions did not rate the buildings which are paraded in the metropolis, but in the spectacular features there was nothing lacking to delight the eye and inspire the onlooker with the feeling of elation which seemed to fill the breast of every working man in line.

Elaborate Floats

This year there is to be special attention given to the preparation of floats by the several unions. There is an incentive to this in the shape of a number of prizes which have been offered by certain individuals. There was a time when floats were rare things in a procession of this kind, but as the years pass there is a growing appreciation of this method among workers to impress upon the onlooker the advance in development and taste which have been inspired by united labor.

As a consequence it is expected that the coming parade will contain some of the most displays which have ever been made in a procession of this kind in the State of California.

The reports made at the meeting of the Building Trades Council as to the condition of the labor market in this county were of an encouraging character. It was shown that in nearly every instance there was sufficient doing in almost every line of activity to give employment to the members of every union. This fact is borne out by the building record of the city, which keeps up to the average mark, although this is considered about the dullest season of the year, owing to the fact that there are so many people who are ordinarily engaged in active pursuits absent from the city.

There is a hopeful feeling at the same time that the present activity experienced here will be continued throughout the winter because it is known that there are several enterprises yet to be launched which cannot be completed before the closing of the coming season.

ASSESSMENT ROLL
SHOWS INCREASE

Assessor Woods of San Rafael
Sends in Valuations for Current Year

SAN RAFAEL, Aug. 4.—City Assessor H. P. Woods has delivered his assessment roll for the current year 1909-10 to the city clerk. The following five principal classifications enter into and make up the total taxable valuation, viz:

Real estate	$2,364,942
Improvements	1,896,682
Improvements on land of others	127,000
Personal property net	351,375
Money	91,447

Total valuation $4,832,425
Deducting one state mortgage,
Interest, being state money..... 50,000

Correct total valuation..... $4,782,425

The increase over last year's valuation amounts to $254,421, the largest portion of which is accounted for by improvements erected during the past year.

The total valuation at the usual levy of $1 per $100 will produce $47,824.25 to which may be added licenses of all kinds estimated at $1000, making a grand total of $48,824.25 to cover municipal expenditures for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1909, and ending June 30, 1910.

Prospector's Disappearance Causes General Alarm to Be Sent Out

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 4.—Because she was only 16 years of age when she was married, Mrs. Viola Antoinette Harrell obtained from Judge Post an annulment of her marriage to Carl Cotton Harrell. The young couple formerly resided in San Jose and they eloped to Oakland and were married. The young couple admitted upon the stand that she had misrepresented her age when she secured the marriage license, and although she declared she was 18, she was only 16. The young woman's married life was far from happy, and when she tried to return to the home of her mother she was refused.

The young woman admits that she is about to take another voyage on the matrimonial sea and that is why she was so anxious for the annulment.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 4.—G. E. Olmquist and B. J. Cutter of Oakland reported yesterday to the sheriff that Fred Brown, a Reno prospector and partner of the late mining venture near Lake Tahoe, had been missing since Sunday and they feared foul play.

Brown left Reno Sunday a mere Fred Kratz at Coon, Cal., and near the Oakland men at Truckee, but never returned. A search failed to reveal any trace of the missing man. Kratz is also missing.

Brown was known to have considerable money in his possession and a general alarm has been sent out as the theory that he has been robbed. If nothing is heard of the man a posse will be organized tomorrow to search the mountains near Lake Tahoe.

BIGAMIST'S DUPE
BEMOANS FATE

Widow Who Jilted One Man to
Wed Another Again
Alone

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Bemoaning the fate which made her the dupe of a bigamist, Mrs. Eva B. Wallace, a widow, who formerly conducted a millinery store here, has returned from Honolulu, where she spent a month's honeymoon with Raymond W. Baker of Chicago, only to awaken one morning to find him accused of bigamy and the forging of a check on a San Francisco firm.

Mrs. Wallace was on her way to the altars to marry another man when she met Baker. They fell in love at first sight and were married when the boat landed. The widow expresses no resentment at her supposed husband's treatment and excuses him on the ground that "he fell because he loved me to such an extent that it weakened his powers of reasoning."

The disappointed bride is now with her mother at 9 Liberty street, and announces her intention of again taking up a business career.

POSSE RUNS KNIFE
WIELDER TO EARTH

Sheriff Captures Desperado
Who Stabbed Fisherman
After Volley of Shots

MARTINEZ, Aug. 4.—Volley after volley of revolver shots broke the stillness of Martinez late Monday night, when a sheriff's posse endeavored to intercept the flight of Antonio Buccochi, who was attempting to escape after having stabbed a fisherman named Cardello. The hunted man, seeing escape cut off on all sides, jumped into the water.

He was seen to jump from the wharf and a volley of shots followed him as he plunged into the water. After a few minutes the posse had fairly bombarded the spot where he was last seen. Deputy Sheriff Howard Yeale observed him crouching in the tides not two feet away. Throwing his revolver into the fugitive's face, the officer forced him to submit to arrest.

When Buccochi was forced out of the water it was discovered that the top of his hat and his coat were riddled with bullets, although none of the missiles penetrated the flesh.

Buccochi's trouble with Cardello started from a quarrel at the dinner table. Buccochi, flushed with wine, became too rowdy and when his companion endeavored to check him, drew a dagger and stabbed him twice, cutting a large vein in Cardello's arm and then slashing open the latter's abdomen.

A complaint against Buccochi was sworn to by George Baker, one of the pursuers, at whom the fleeing man had lunged with his knife as he ran past. Cardello was taken to the county hospital and is in a precarious condition.
